

He's baaaack! | And so are film festivals

LI FILM AND TV EXPO

July 8-17, Bellmore Movies

The 11th annual Long Island International Film and Television Expo has announced a lineup of 134 short and feature films, some with Long Island roots and settings. Those include "Crazy," based on the life of country guitarist Hank Garland and produced by Carle Place native Steve Vai; "The Big Shot-Caller," an inspirational film from local writer-director Marlene Rhein; and "Calling It Quits," a comedy-drama shot in Roslyn, Sea Cliff and other regional spots. Go to longislandfilm.com.

MCT PHOTO BY STEVE DESLICH

Carle Place native Steve Vai produced "Crazy."

TRIPTYCH MEDIA PHOTO

Susan Sarandon should be a plus in "Emotional Arithmetic."

STONY BROOK FILM FEST

July 17-26, Staller Center

Opening night at the Stony Brook Film Festival, now in its 13th year, features "Emotional Arithmetic," with Susan Sarandon and Max von Sydow; "Phoebe in Wonderland," starring Elle Fanning, the younger sister of Dakota; "The Cake Eaters," Mary Stuart Masterson's directorial debut (she will be at the festival); "Cat City," a thriller starring Rebecca Pidgeon and Brian Dennehy; and the Irish drama "Kings" with Colm Meaney. Go to stonybrookfilmfestival.com.